Decapitated pickup

A DECAPITATED PICKUP was left in the wake of an early-morning accident Tuesday when a flatbed truck was backed into its path at SR 80 and Southeast Avenue G as Wyatt Harris Folds, 56, of 2596 14th St. in Pahokee was driving the A. Duda and Sons pickup to work. Folds received first aid on the scene from Belle Glade Fire Department EMT

Warren Street and was transported to Everglades Memorial Hospital for injuries. James Love, 37, of 415 S.W. Ave. B in Belle Glade, who drove the flatbed truck for Leroy Nelson of 764 S.W. 8th St., was charged by Belle Glade Patrolman Isaac Jones with improper backing and failing to show his driver's license on demand.

Election changes to be made by September

BELLE GLADE—When voters go to the polls in September to fill the three seats of the city commission being opened, they will probably be using computer cards instead of the familiar voting machines, as well as voting at a new location.

Commissioners indicated agreement during their regular meeting Monday night to a suggestion of Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester, relayed by City Clerk June Boglioli, that the computer polls be used in the city election, as they will definitely be used in the 1978 county and state elections.

Commissioner William Grear asked, however, whether Mrs. Winchester could arrange some form of education program before the election so voters won't be forced to face an entirely new system of voting when they go to the polls in the city election.

Mrs. Boglioli said she was sure Mrs. Winchester would agree to the request and said she would relay the suggestion to the supervisor of elections office.

The commission also started the procedure to change the polling place from the familiar city fire station to the new fire station now being built in McDonald Park.

Commissioner Tom Altman moved the change he made, with unanimous agreement from the other commissioners, when City Manager Robert Sanders pointed out city elections are currently required to be held in the city hall.

The present fire station is part of the existing city hall but by the time the elections are held, the new city hall won't be completed while the fire department will have already moved into its new quarters.

Sanders at first informed the commissioners the location of elections is designated by the city charter but a quick search found the location to be set by ordinance. At the commission's direction, City Attorney John Baker will prepare the ordinance and it can be adopted by June.

Commissioner William Grear said the new location will be better for several reasons, including the fact there is more parking space and the new building will be air conditioned.

In still another move concerning elections, the commissioners agreed to a request by Mrs. Winchester that polling places for precincts 97 and 114 be moved from the Glades Central High School gym to the Municipal Civic Center, providing arrangements can be made with the Rotary Club.

When the matter came up at the Tuesday Rotary meeting, Fritz Stein said he felt the club could get permission to meet the three Tuesdays of the election in third floor meeting room of the new Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc. office building.

Mrs. Winchester said she would like to move the precincts because of a new state requirement that ramps be provided at polling places for handicapped people.

One doctor for City of South Bay

SOUTH BAY—After years of trying, South Bay may be getting a doctor in the near future if efforts being made by Mayor Don Tanner and the city commission prove fruitful.

"We've been trying for years to get a doctor here," Tanner said in a special meeting Tuesday night, "and I've recently had inquiries from two doctors, one in West Virginia and one in Miami."

The physician in West Virginia said he has practiced medicine for the last 22 years and is currently working in emergency rooms in several hospitals in West Virginia and Ohio but said he wants to relocate to a small town which needs his services.

Tanner said the Miami doctor appears to be a younger man but he also wants to move to a smaller community. Both are family physicians and Tanner said he has asked both to send resumes which will be reviewed by the staff of Glades General Hospital.

"We want the board at the hospital to review their qualifications," the mayor said, "because if they aren't approved to work there, they wouldn't do us much good."

"We'd just like the people of South Bay to know we're trying to attract a doctor," he said, "and it looks promising."

—even Bludworth's Fraud Day—

County court carrying the load

BELLE GLADE—Palm Beach County Judge Don Adams told Belle Glade Rotarians Tuesday his court has been able to absorb the extra workload of municipal courts since January, even when they include days like "Bludworth's Welfare Fraud Day," last Friday.

Judge Adams said tight scheduling has proven the court can handle the workload, even with the extra functions such as divorce cases, juvenile cases and felony cases he has added to the Glades court during his tenure.

"Although we haven't generated a lot of more 'judge time,'" he said, "there is a lot more clerk time. Five years ago, when I was appointed, there were two girls in the office and one of those worked part time as my secretary."

"Today," he said, "there are nine girls and we keep them busy. A lot of people don't think of the clerical work that goes on behind the scenes for each case."

Adams said a saving grace which allows him to handle the caseload in the fact, which most people are unaware of, that 90 percent of the people coming before him plead guilty and when only traffic fines are considered, the "guilty plea" figure jumps to 98 percent.

He said he never sees many of those people who plead guilty because they simply pay a fine rather than show up in court. He pointed out to the Rotarians there are only six traffic violations which can't be handled that way.

"Sometimes," Adams said, "a person will mail in the $25 fine and write a two page letter explaining why they're not guilty." He said in some cases, he'll assess a fine (which can reach $500) and sometimes he'll take or give penalty

GCHS pupils improve but 46% fail APL

BELLE GLADE—Despite the fact 46 percent of the 244 juniors who took the Adult Performance Level (APL) test at Glades Central in April failed to score the 60 percent required to pass, West Area school officials say the figures show an improvement over a year ago.

West Area School Supervisor H.W. "Dick" Berryman said the failure rate for the April testing is 19 percent lower than for those who took the 75 question version of the APL last year.

That test, however, was figured with a 70 percent breaking point for passing or failing and the April test was figured under a 60 percent breaking point.

But even considering the difference, the failure rate was 11 percent lower for Glades Central than for last year. Another difference, Berryman pointed out however, is that the April test was composed of 200 questions instead of 75.

One of the reasons, according to Glades Central Principal Dr. Effie Grear, that the rate of failure was brought down somewhat is the effort made by a group of concerned citizens headed by W.C. Taylor.

The group, calling itself Reach Out, tutored 105 of the 300 juniors at Glades Central, free of charge, for weeks before the test was given in an effort to prepare the youngsters for the contents of the exam.

"What concerns me," Taylor said Wednesday, "is that we were only able to get 105 students to take advantage of the tutoring, offered free of charge. But I guess that's a sign of the times."

Both Taylor and Berryman said the major reason for the high failure rate at Glades Central is a breakdown in backup in the students' homes.

"This is absolutely the problem," Taylor said. "We only have a group of about 50 parents who have shown concern and this is the area we (Reach Out) intend to concentrate our efforts."

He said the group had intended to continue working with the students even before the results of the test was known and plans for the continued effort are to be laid when the group next meets in about ten days.

"I was very discouraged," Taylor added, "when I saw the results."

Berryman said a major part of the lack of backup in the home is that attendance is extremely poor in the Glades area, a problem he said has little chance for solution now.

"How can you teach a kid anything," he asked, "when he isn't in class?"

The difference in those who passed and those who failed the test at Glades Central, as in the rest of the county, was marked by the difference in minority and non-minority students.

Of the 244 students who took the test at Glades Central, see APL p

COUNTY JUDGE Don Adams makes a point with a loose-leaf binder of notes during his Tuesday presentation to the Belle Glade Rotary Club on some of the things happening in his court.

There is a contest over on the other side of Lake Okeechobee which isn't given a whole lot of coverage by the local media, but which benefits the lake tremendously.

The contest is called Thlathlo Tumka, which in Seminole means, "to catch a fish on a fly" and it is put on by the Glades County Chamber of Commerce.

Thlathlo Tumka is a contest for outdoor writers, folks in the business of doing stories and articles on fishing and such for both the magazine and newspaper. The resulting publicity Thlathlo Tumka has given, all of Lake Okeechobee and its sportfishing is nothing short of fantastic.

Harold DeTar, who is known to many in this area through his work with various fishing contests and Chamber of Commerce events, is the "father" of Thlathlo Tumka and through his efforts, the contest has grown quite respectively over the last 11, or so years.

For the past five years, I've covered Thlathlo Tumka for the local newspapers and this year, I received an unexpected bonus...I was offered a chance to fish in it and compete against such notables as Charlie Harris of the St. Petersburg Times, Herb Allen of the Tampa Tribune, Jim Hardee of the Miami Herald, and Ross Parsons of the Palm Beach Times.

Unfortunately, I couldn't accept the invitation because of deadlines and such, but Harold said he will have me a chance next year and you can bet I'll make time.

However, I did attend the annual awards banquet in Buckhead Ridge Wednesday night and it was super...once again.

In all, 11 outdoor writers attended and Charlie Harris wound up the winner with well over 1,300 points to his credit. Charlie has been in the winner's circle now about six out of eight starts.

Leland Pearce of Buckhead Enterprises, also an old Belle Glade boy way back when, hosted this year's Thlathlo Tumka as he has hosted contests in the past.

In a short speech Wednesday, he told the audience he realized the value of the contest many years ago and as long as he and his son Cliff have anything to do with Buckhead Ridge Marina, "the contest is welcome to come back each year."

I have thought over the years the idea is a novel one that pays off in healthy dividends with increased sportfishing interest in Lake Okeechobee.

Those of us who live here know how good the fishing is. It's getting the word out to others that counts. And the contest, is one of the better means of doing so.

It is said the average fisherman spends something like $12 per hour when engaged in particular activities. Add that figure up with a hundred fishermen participating and you have a healthy source of revenue for the local economy.

Sneaking in the back door

There's more than one way to skin a cat and some state legislators apparently think they've found a new way to skin the state's workers.

Faced with the incontrovertible fact the state's constitution supports the worker's right to work without belonging to a union, the Personnel and Collective Bargaining Committee recently passed to tie floor of the House of Representatives a bill which would allow unions to charge a "service representation fee" to non-union employees.

Which is a pretty sneaky way to slip in the back door of the Right to Work Law...providing it's constitutional, and it clearly isn't in spirit even if it is allowed by the language of the constitution.

The committee apparently received at least some glimmering of the danger of the measure because they deleted public employees from the bill, leaving only the private sector to pay the price.

No employee, public or private, should be required to pay extortion to anyone in order to hold a job. And extortion is exactly what such a fee would be unless the worker wants to be represented by the union.

Suspicious confirmed

Sure was nice to hear Tom Sansbury confirm what we'd said last fall when he ran his successful campaign against Sue Barton for the Palm Beach County School Board...even if he was a little late.

Sansbury drew applause when he announced in a board meeting held in Pahokee what those Glades people already knew. There ain't no way someone from the coast can adequately represent the people of the Glades on the board. Sansbury probably didn't hurt his standing with the people in the Glades either when he said this area needs its own representative on the board, another idea we promulgated last fall.

One school official said at the time there was little hope the other members of the board would go along with putting a person on a seven-member board to represent 10 percent of the county's population.

He was probably right but there is precedent and we don't have to go any further than the Palm Beach County Commission to find it. Bill Bailey is one of the only five commissioners and he represents that same 10 percent.

The differences between the two areas on either side of 20 Mile Bend are simply too great for one person to adequately span.

That, and the refusal of so many people in the Greater West Palm Beach area to see that truth and the resultant step-child treatment of the Glades area is why so many people so often call for the creation of a new county, an idea we haven't endorsed but which looks more and more attractive.

Taxation without representation was the rallying cry of the American Revolution and if there is ever a Glades Revolution from Palm Beach County, the same slogan could be brushed off and used again.

Lest we forget...

Memorial Day is the traditional time to remember those who have passed away and, while there's still almost three weeks before the holiday, this is a good time to consider something to make the day more meaningful than just another day off the job.

In keeping with the tradition of the day, the American Cancer Society is sending an extensive mailing to past contributors requesting donations in memory of loved ones who have died of cancer.

This expression of love and devotion to the deceased is most fitting. But it goes further than being a memorial of a close friend or relative, as a memorial to the living and the yet unborn.

Every memorial gift provides aid to cancer research, helps provide medical comfort to cancer patients in Palm Beach County and aids the education program.

Few Americans are fortunate enough not have been touched by the tragedy of cancer. For the rest of us, memorial gifts may be the way to celebrate Memorial Day.

Voice From the Wilderness

also want to be enemy to man. Now, that's masochistic.

Let me quote from one of their articles about hunting:

"The great difficulty lies in the personality of the hunter. He's an individual so lacking in empathy that he uses hunting as a masculine image play. Therefore in taming the hunter, the public must let him know that by strutting about in orange garb with a gun on his shoulder he is quite simply announcing his fear that he is not a manly man."

The booklet quotes a psychiatrist.

Dr. Maurice E. Linden, puts it this way: "I do believe the gun becomes the external embodiment of the vigor and masculine aggressive that these men lack in themselves."

The gun becomes a crutch or a stiffening mechanism. It puts starch in the spine...The huntman is aggressive, forceful, domineering and tends to be somewhat sadistic. He likes to inflict torture. It takes a certain amount of sadism to enjoy the death-throes of a dying animal...The kind of man who is a gun collector and a huntman tends to be a brash and overbearing fellow who, when the chips are really down and when real strength—I mean strength of character—is needed, this kind of fellow falls apart, cannot measure up to the requirements of stress.

With tongue in cheek, I'm sure, the good doctor says "I think that type of personality makes up more than half of the gun-loving group."

And the society says that the half who are not male deficiency types will someday "liberate" themselves and hang their guns on the wall.

Well sir, this is interesting. Let me say that a personal friend of mine, who also happens to be a psychiatrist—Dr. Anthony J. Dinwiddie—said the same thing about huntmen and gun collectors. He has also made psychological observations about other types of people. Let's look at them:

—Mothers. "The type of woman who becomes a mother," says Dr. Dinwiddie, "is very insecure in herself. She needs someone smaller than her and dependent upon her so she can feel in control. When her frustration level reaches a certain level, strong women don't need children to boss around. They have their husbands."

Christians. Those who believe firmly in Christ are dependent upon another person who lead their lives for them. They are insecure upon another person who lead their lives for them. They are insecure and weak in their own behalf in themselves and need something else to pin their destiny upon.

—Store managers. "Those who manage stores," Dr. Dinwiddie says, "use a tyrannical visage not normally acceptable to society in their chewing out of employees. It relieves their frustrations and tensions culminated from their inability to be effective outside of their own narrow business life."

—Writers. Those who put people on ink and try to make people understand others through subtle humor are subliminal tyrants who really want the world to shape up and do things their way. Dr. Dinwiddie says, "Writers may perhaps be the weakest in character because they don't have the fortitude to come right out and say things they believe in, relying instead on the subtle hegemony of wordsed abstracts to make their readers think."

Vension is cheaper than steak when you get it yourself. Mothers make more sacrifices than other human being to take his or her place in society. Christians live by a solid, humanistic philosophy that forms a reasonable and valid lifestyle for themselves in society. Store managers have the high responsibility of success before them and, generally, treat their employees very well.

Psychiatrists, on the other hand, generally confuse and obfuscate issues, morality, and truth with platitudes and philosophical hogwash which, fortunately, most common sensical fellows see through before the third lines.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Got word the other day the Archdiocese of Miami is setting a policy of not marrying anyone under the age of 18 unless and until permission has been granted by the Ordinary of the Archdiocese (whatever that is) through the agency of the Marriage Tribunal (whoever that may be).

My first reaction was that priests couldn't marry anyone younger or older than 19 without permission from Pope...Paul, something he isn't likely to give.

That was before I realized they were talking about performing marriages, and that's a policy I can wholeheartedly endorse but I don't think it goes far enough.

What happens, when one or both members of the couple are under 19, is that there will be a three-month cooling off period (like when you want to buy a gun in some states).

The priest and the couple will have in-depth interviews (like anybody else is interviewed before they're admitted to an institution).

Both parents of the boy and girl will be interviewed by the priest (and I assume the same holds true if the couple are both girls or both boys).

The couple must attend the Pre-Cana Conference or, recognized equivalent, not being a Catholic, didn't know what this was either but I guess a national Moose Convention would make for suitable equivalent; either that or a conference on the subject of matrimony.

If there is question about the capacity of marriage, the couple must be referred for evaluation by a professional counselor (there's always question about the capacity for marriage, just as there is question about the capacity for masochism).

Now, this may seem like a real hassle to some of the libertarian members of society who have the mistaken conception a person of legal age oughta be able to do whatever they want as long as they both consent. I suppose a more realistic and moral age would be about the age of 69 for men and 72 women. After all, those assessed by this time were not starchy-eyed romantics but more who think that just because we love someone, that's a good reason to go beyond the fluttering-of-eyelashes and hand-holding stage.

Besides, those are the life expectancies of men and women born today and, so long as we remain chaste in our pre-marital years, that's probably a partial answer to over-population.

The ancient Spartans started out on the right track. They figured a man should marry until he was 30 and a girl should wait until when she was 18 and not one day sooner.

I never heard what the reasoning was on the 18th birthday for girls. I suppose it might've been because they would've had time by then to have finished high school home ec courses and they'd be able to cook a decent meal and hubby not time to start college and get any high-falutin' ideas about the women's lib.

On the other hand, the age of 30 was an ideal age for men. Heck, that was the first time after they'd passed their sixth birthday that they were allowed to live outside the army barracks.

Men just didn't have the time before then for such foolishness as settling down with a wife and family. They were too busy marching around depopulating the Peloponnesian peninsulas, along with parts of Attica.

Which goes to show everything's gone downhill since then. Realizing the dangers of overpopulation, the Spartans did something about the problem before letting the men have time off to aggravate the situation.

And you never heard of the Spartans having an energy-crisis or a gasoline crunch crisis? Huh-huh? They never had any urban renewal projects making for a drain on the taxpayer's wallet. Since they never gave the cities any way to grow (how could they grow when all the men were killed off in wars? There weren't any slums to raise).

And anyone who thinks wars are a waste of time can wait until they try out the marital blitz for the first time.

I will admit, though, that a friend of mine once told me, "Dean, I never knew what happiness was until I got married. Then it was too late."

Population, need, money determine road priorities

Population, need and the availability of money determine priorities within Florida's Department of Transportation, the Pahokey Chamber of Commerce was told at their annual meeting Friday night at the Elk's Lodge.

William Fowler, district engineer, told the Chamber this means that areas with heavy population demand and receive much of the DOT's resources.

The two projects of the greatest interest in the Glades, four-laning of SR 80 and US 27 south of South Bay, are in the planning stage and the US 27 project may be included in the newest five-year plan.

Engineering difficulties have cropped up on the SR 80 project, which is being planned. Fowler said the Glades has very poor road-building materials and to ship in material would make the cost prohibitive. He said the decision has been made to use native material, but this will mean the construction of a borrow canal 73 feet from the road. Additional protection (besides the distance away from the road) will be afforded by a four to five foot berm between the road and canal.

Material from the proposed canal will be thrown up and allowed to settle for a year before the road will be surfaced, according to present plans.

Fowler said from planning to actual completion, most projects take seven years. He gave no indication as to when either project would be completed.

In a question and answer session, Fowler said the DOT has no present plans to cut the hazardous Australian pine trees lining many roads in the Glades.

He said he realized they are a safety problem, but there is not enough money to do the work. Fowler told the Chamber federal funds more than likely couldn't be used because the "feds want everything done and we don't have the money to do it like they want."

However, he told the group, if a hurricane should blow these trees down over the roads, a great deal of federal money would quickly become available to repair and re-open the highways.

This led Chamber president Arthur Nagler to quip that he felt the way for this area to receive DOT consideration was to "make more babies or pray for a hurricane."

Fowler said the DOR was attempting to change its image from a big, unresponsive agency, to one that touches the lives of everyone.

He said the organization, and in particular his district, is attempting to minimize problems caused by construction projects.

The district itself, which reaches from Key West in the south to Sebastian Inlet in the north and all across the state, contains 40% of the state's population in nine counties, said Fowler. He said he recently hired a man to help citizens with problems or complaints.

As for the future, Fowler told the group he expects the DOT to do less and less new construction and spend more and more money on maintenance. Florida now has a $6 billion road inventory with over 3,000 bridges, many of which are in need of repair or replacement. Interstate highways need to be resurfaced every eight years and primary roads every 14, said Fowler, but this shift in emphasis will "put the squeeze" on Florida. The state is growing and new transportation links are needed to serve the state in addition to the present system. In closing, Fowler told the chamber he realizes the DOT sometimes seems unresponsive but it is "trying to make the best technical and engineering decisions."

Glades Central girls set records

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Glades Central girls track team failed to win any first place awards Saturday at the State Meet in Winter Park but did help shatter more than one previous record as the team placed fifth statewide.

Coch J. Seider said the competition at the state meet was strong, pointing out that only two tenths of a second separated first from fifth place in the 100-yard dash. Seider said two girls ran the final heat in 0.9 seconds, two more in 11.0 seconds and Kathleen Ford came in fifth in 11.1 seconds.

He said at least five national records and 27 state records were broken at the Winter Park meet by girls competing in 4-A and 3-A track and field events.

"I think more records will be set in the next few years," he said. "Interest is growing in girls track as a sport. Competition is getting better and coaching is getting better."

Seider said he has the nucleus for a strong team next year, if he can find a couple of girls to replace graduating stars Kathleen Ford and Terry Osborne.

"They'll be tough to replace though," he said. "Both compete well in four or five events." Seider has volunteered his services as coach for the team the past three years because the school board doesn't allow pay for the position.

Besides placing fifth in the 100-yard dash, Miss Ford came in fifth in the shot put to help the team amass 20 points in a tie with Atlantic High for fifth place in the state.

Rose Wilkerson set a school record in her second place effort in the 440 yard run, making the dash in 57.9 seconds. That was three seconds faster than the old state record. The winner came in one second ahead.

Another second place win was recorded by the 880 medley team of Kathleen Ford, Linda Baldwin, Judy White and Rose Wilkerson, who had just finished her 440-yard sprint before running another quarter mile in the medley. The team ran the half mile in a record time of 1:50.3, beating the old state record by more than three seconds.

In the 110-yard low hurdles, Marletha Peavy placed sixth with a time of 14.8 seconds, her best time and a school record. Seider pointed out that Miss Peavy only started running the hurdles in mid-season and has been improving throughout the year. She is a junior and Seider said he expects her to do even better next year.

Rose Wilkerson picked up more points for the team by placing fifth in the discus throw with a distance of 109'2". Seider said she made one longer throw which was disqualified because she "scratched" when her foot went over the line.

The final points were won for Glades Central by the 440 relay team of Marletha Peavy, Terry Osborne, Linda Baldwin and Kathleen Ford, which came in sixth with a time of 50.2 seconds, the fastest time this year and a tie for the school record.

A near miss for still more points came when Janice Wright placed seventh in the high jump by clearing the horizontal bar at 5'2".

Seider said Miss Wright was one of four girls who jumped the same height but she had more misses than the other competitors.

"What I'd like to get next year is some more depth," Seider said. "If we had a few more really good competitors, we wouldn't have to run the same girls in so many events."

Commercial art classes hold show

BELLE GLADE—Art and commercial art classes at Glades Central High School will hold their first annual art show from May 26 through June 9 at the Municipal Library.

"There will be a great variety of works," according to Mrs. Betty Zedonek, art instructor at the high school, "including paintings, drawings and mixed media of more than one medium in the same work. Ribbons will be awarded to best in show and in the various categories."

Mrs. Zedonek, who said students in classes taught by Harry Bloomquist and Steven Hunt will also participate in the show, said she is attempting to have work representing all her students take part in the public viewing.

"This show," she said, "is a cooperative effort of the art and commercial art departments. The public is welcome to come view the talent of the Glades Central High art students during regular library hours."

CB club to hold fish fry

LAKE HARBOR—Members of the Glades CB Club, Inc., will hold their second Annual Fish Fry May 22 at the pavilion in John Stretch Park.

The club will be serving fish dinners from noon until there are no more customers. Price of the meals will be $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children.

Prizes will be offered for both children and adults.

Former local grid players transfer

MCPHERSON, KANSAS—Two former Glades Central football players transferred to McPherson College since January to play for the McPherson Bulldogs.

Johnnie Rutledge, a former quarterback for the Raiders, and former ace backseat Anthony "Flex" Burger made the switch from Langston University in Oklahoma. Both were All Suncoast Conference and All-Area picks when on the Raider squad.

"Burger has blinding moves and should fill our need for a quality receiver after losing Scott Robinson," head football coach Don Rominger said. "Rutledge gives us quality help in the option attack and is very quick."

Hypertension tests are set

Hypertension screening tests will be offered without charge to the public every Monday from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Palm Beach County Health Department, every Monday through Friday, 1 to 4 p.m. at the Belle Glade Health Center, 1024 N.W. Ave. D, Belle Glade.

ART WINNER Rudy Cox displays the style that won his first place award in the art division of the Glades Central Educational Fair last week. Rudy's was one of more than 300 displays being presented to the public in the school library in a presentation of what students have learned and accomplished during the year. The piece that won his award, "Lady in Blue" will be on display soon at the Belle Glade Library.

Retiring teacher honored

BELLE GLADE—Mrs. Myrtle A. Johnson will end 46 years as a teacher at the end of this term. To express their appreciation, the faculty at Belle Glade Elementary School honored Mrs. Johnson with a party last Monday.

Mrs. Johnson has been a resident of the Glades since 1915, teaching at Pahokee before coming to Belle Glade. Presently she was teaching at Pahokee before coming to Belle Glade. Presently she was teaching second grade, her "favorite grade," at Belle Glade Elementary. Two of her former students at Pahokee Elementary School were present, Mrs. Gloria Smith and Mrs. Margaret West. West Area Administrator Dick Berryman and an assistant to the administrator, Mercedes Robinson, were also present at the party.

Historical Society will hold Pahokee meeting

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Historical Society will meet in the Fellowship Hall of the Pahokee United Methodist Church on North Main Street in Pahokee at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, May 15 for the final meeting of the program year.

Local residents will present the program by recalling the days when the first toll road was in use. The Connor's Highway calls to mind a colorful period in the development of western Palm Beach County. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A called joint meeting at 2:15 p.m. of the Board of Directors and the Publications Committee will precede the Historical Society meeting in fellowship hall.

Mrs. Martha Allison, the president, urges all persons concerned to be present for this important meeting.

IN MEMORY OF RICHARD EDWARD WEEKS

In loving memory of Richard Edward Weeks, who died on May 12, 1976. His memory will remain with us always, from Elaine, Mandi and Will Weeks.

"When I Must Leave You"

When I must leave you for a little while Please do not grieve and shed wild tears And hug your sorrow to you through the years, But start out bravely with a gallant smile.

And for my sake and in my name Live on and do all things the same. Feed not your loneliness on empty days.

But fill each waking hour in useful ways. Reach out your hand in comfort and in cheer And I in turn will comfort you and hold you near; And never, never be afraid to die. For I am waiting for you in the sky!

MOTHER

It is so important that a child feel secure and loved the first weeks and months of its life. Our foremost authorities say that if a child's spiritual and emotional welfare is neglected in the early weeks of life, there is a great chance of permanent damage to its personality growth.

Therefore, on this day, we honor not only the beloved mothers of our adults and youth, but the very young mother who has both the tremendous responsibility and the precious opportunity to mold the life and character of the very young child. May she seek early God's help, who in the person of the Son, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Altar Society installation is held

BELLE GLADE—On Monday, May 2, St. Philip Basil Altar Society held its last meeting of the year with a Mass and installation of officers taking place during the mass. Candles were lit by the new officers, pledges taken, and a Holy Card of the Blessed Virgin Mary presented to each officer by Father Saghy in reminder of their duties and responsibilities of their respective office.

The new officers are Mrs. Irene Teliechea, president; Mrs. Alicia Jimenez, vice-president; Mrs. Kathleen Dexter, secretary; and Mrs. Vivian Miller, treasurer.

A silver cross pendant was presented to out-going president, Alicia Jimenez, for her services rendered of the last two years; also, a similar cross was presented to past president Mary Lou Bowen, who had served previously for a number of years.

The meeting concluded with prayer by Father Saghy and followed with delicious refreshments served by the hostesses: Mrs. Lolo Castro, Mrs. Bertha

Garden Clubs meet jointly

PAHOKEE—The annual spring joint installation luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Garden Club and the Canal Point Garden Club will be held in the Community Building at Canal Point Tuesday, May 17, at 12 noon.

Members of the Pahokee Club will be in charge of table decorations, and arrangements for the covered-dish luncheon will be under the direction of members of the Canal Point Club.

Agramonte, Mrs. Sue Murphy, Mrs. Laura Lockmiller, Mrs. Flora Sanchez and Mrs. Mimi Vincent. Other members attending were: Mrs. Silvia Silva, Mrs. Angelita Sanchez, Mrs. Betha LaChance, Mrs. Zenaida Garcia, Mrs. Merida Blanchard, Mrs. Angela Puig, Mrs. Maria Pena, Miss Lolita Brito, Mrs. Olga Hayes, Mrs. Maria Campa and Mrs. Luisa Blanchard.

NEW OFFICERS were recently installed by the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club, including, for the first time ever, Mrs. Gene Farley as a repeat president. Other officers, from left to right, were Mrs. Ernest Munter as second vice president, Mrs. Frank Lovell as recording secretary, Mrs. Israel Baez as corresponding secretary and Mrs. Wayne Corbin as treasurer. Not available for the photograph were Buddy Sizemore, the club's new first vice president and Mrs. Sandra Chamblee, the installing officer.

Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club new officers are installed

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club gathered at the home of Mrs. June Mikell recently to install new officers.

Following a lasagna dinner prepared by members of the installation committee, club members enjoyed humorous skits depicting club activities and personalities.

Using the theme of "Re-run," the installation committee presented a television style program in honor of the club's president, Mrs. Gina Farley, who is the first president in the club's 12 year history to be re-elected to a second term of the organization.

On a more serious note, installing officer Mrs. Sandra Chamblee reminded the new officers of their responsibilities, as she presented each with an animal pendant symbolizing the duties of their new positions.

New Junior officers include Mrs. Farley as president, Mrs. Charla Sizemore as first vice-president, Mrs. Sue Munter as second vice-president, Mrs. Nancy Lovell as recording secretary, Mrs. Cindy Baez as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Wayne Corbin as treasurer.

Special awards were presented at the meeting to recognize outstanding club members. Recipient of the highly coveted Junior Woman of the Year Award was Mrs. Ginger Masingill, who was voted by her fellow club members as being the best overall Junior for the year.

Mrs. Masingill, in addition to fulfilling the position of first vice-president, had served as Arts Department chairman, and has chaired the club's major fund raising functions during the year, including a dance and a fashion show. She was presented with a silver bowl in appreciation of her service to the club.

The Most Involved New Member Award went to Mrs. Carol Lamb, whose club contributions included serving as publicity chairman, co-chairman for membership, and donating her time and efforts to help with almost every club project held during the year. Mrs. Lamb received a silver tray.

Mrs. Chamblee, who is the Florida Association of Women's Clubs Junior Home Life Department chairman, was presented with a silver chip and dip set by club president Mrs. Farley, who chose Mrs. Chamblee to receive the President's Award for being the most outstanding chairman.

In appreciation for her help with Junior club projects and support for the past two years, the Sponsor from the Woman's Club, Mrs. Theo Dooley, was given a silver comote. The club's sponsor, Mrs. June Mowen, was welcomed by members.

Mrs. Farley announced that her President's theme for the coming year will be "Juniors For People". She gave a brief review of the club's service projects for the past year and complimented members on their contributions to the community.

Projects now in progress include a stationary sale with proceeds to go toward mental retardation projects, sponsoring the Glades area annual Palm Beach County Cancer Society Crusade, and a rummage sale was held to raise funds to landscape a median strip island on Main Street.

At the Florida Federation of Women's Club annual Convention held late in April, the local Junior club received first place awards for outstanding projects in the areas of preventative medicine and mental retardation.

The Belle Glade Junior club was also given a special plaque by the Florida Association for Retarded Citizens in recognition of the club's help with the Association for Retarded Citizen's pre-school facility in Belle Glade, and their help with the formation of a separate Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens.

A group of five Juniors visited Sunland Center in Fort Myers Saturday to hold a party for the children in one of the cottages. The cottage is one of the club's standing projects, in conjunction with the Belle Glade Woman's Club.

The club usually gives the party for the children at Christmas time but a conflict in scheduling prevented that this year. The Juniors also received help from Mu Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and Mrs. Dorinda Shutt went along on the trip to represent the chapter.

Making the trip for the Juniors were Mrs. Sandra Chamblee, Mrs. Cindy Caez, Mrs. Charla Sizemore and Mrs. Marsha Oren.

South Bay is surprised by Audubon resolution

SOUTH BAY—In a surprise (to him) move Tuesday, Mayor Don Tanner received a copy of a resolution from the Lake Okechobee Audubon Society joining South Bay, and other cities around the big lake and the Florida Sugar Cane Leagues in protesting proposed rule changes for water use.

The resolution directed to the Florida Department of Environmental Regulations objected to the proposed revision, "without compelling demonstration by the Department of Environmental Regulation of:

- 1) The propriety and need to review and revise simultaneously without intervening public hearings;
- 2) The logic and practicality of interposing by arbitrary classification a body of water of a higher designated classin a system of a lower class, e.g., Kissimmee River (C-38; Lake Okechobee; Miami-North New River; Hillsborough); West Palm Beach Canals;
- 3) Bonafide scientific historic background values for classification parameters for the bodies of water to be regulated in the Kissimmee-Okechobee-Everglades system; and
- 4) The validity of establishing standards which are more restrictive than those of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

South Bay, Belle Glade and Pahokee went on record last week in support of a petition being circulated by the Florida Sugar Cane League in protest of the proposed revisions, which would purportedly outlaw, if it's possible, water from the Kissimmee River flowing into Lake Okechobee.

While the Audubon resolution didn't mention the petition, it apparently takes the same stand, although without offering the same alternatives, and the resolution is being sent to DER, the appropriate committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the state, the appropriate county and municipal commissions in the Lake Okechobee area and organizations and individuals interested in the South Florida environment.

The petition being circulated by the Sugar Cane League recommends the DER either change the classification of some of the waters involved or allow mixing of the classifications of water within the same body, particularly allowing the classification of the southeast corner of the lake as a higher classification than the rest of the lake.

According to the proposed revisions, the rules don't allow the flow of water of one classification into water with a lower classification. Under current classifications, the rules would prohibit South Bay, Belle Glade or Pahokee to drain storm waters or flood waters into the adjoining canals, the drainage of agriculture fields into canals or the backpumping of any of the area canals back into Lake Okechobee.

League Environmental Committee Chairman George Wedgworth commented last week he felt the ban on backpumping would disallow the storage of water in Lake Okechobee and could result in a shortage of water for all of South Florida under drought conditions.

"I think they (the DER) ought to be thinking of quantity as well as quality," Wedgworth said. "Is it better to have water with some nutrients in it or no water at all?"

Other growers in the area have said increasing pressure over the last several years to ban backpumping from the Everglades Agricultural Area into Lake Okechobee would be disastrous and would possibly destroy the agricultural industry in the Glades area.

A preliminary report from a special study being performed for the League by Black, Crow and Edness, a Gainesville engineering firm, also indicates that the major nutrient being backpumped from the Glades area is nitrogen and the limiting nutrient is phosphorus.

SEMINOLE SUPPLY was presented an award of appreciation Monday for the remodeling of the outlet on South Main Street. Presenting the certificate on behalf of the Belle Glade Beautification Committee were (far left and far right) S.M. McAllister and Robert Allen. Receiving the award on behalf of Seminole Supply were Barney Weeks and Lester McMillan.

Athletic fish fry is set

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Glades Central Athletic Council will hold the council's annual Spring Fish Fry at 5 p.m. Saturday in the school's main cafeteria.

Council President Kenneth Bowermeister said he has been fishing overtime to provide the bass which will make up the main course of the feast. "Mama's been helping too," he said. "She caught a seven pounder of the weekend and I caught a seven pounder myself."

The proceeds of the fish fry will go toward paying for a 15-passenger van being used by the athletic department, primarily for transportation for Spring sports teams, although it has also been used to carry the basketball team and cheerleaders to away games.

Bowermeister said the council members are hoping for a good turnout because this is the last fund-raising event of the school year. But even if the fish fry is a fund-raiser, there will be guests of honor.

As usual, he said members of the Belle Glade Police Department are given free meals in appreciation for traffic and crowd control provided by the department during sporting events. Tickets are available at the school and from all athletic council members, as well as at the door. Meals will cost $2.50 and will include fried bass, cole slaw, corn on the cob, hush puppies and iced tea.

Sam Manning is promoted

Naval Seaman Apprentice Samuel K. Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manning of 500 Orange Avenue Circle in Belle Glade, was meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Orlando. A 1976 graduate of Glades Central High School, he joined the Navy in January.

LEARNING THE GIFT OF LIFE in the form of Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation is Glades Central freshman Belinda Whalen, who is given a chance to practice CPR last week on

of the chamber, saying the chamber has initiated and continued to spur action on the removal of Pahokee from the "flood prone" designation made upon the community by the National Flood Insurance program.

Unless Pahokee can be removed from this status, he said, the mandatory flood insurance could cost home buyers and businesses hundreds of dollars during the life of a mortgage.

He also noted the chamber's activities in coordinating and financing the special Bicentennial Fourth of July activities, the help it gave in promoting the First Annual Okechobee Waterway Association Landscape Art Show, work with the garden club on the holiday lighting contest, and the endorsement and proposal of improvements in the patio area adjacent to the chamber's office.

Several merchant coffees have been sponsored by the chamber said Nagler, and it is hoped more participation will result in future coffees.

The chamber also initiated action for improvements of the Canal Point access road to Lake Okechobee and encouraged the addition of Pahokee recently erected road signs in the area.

The chamber's financial statement showed the organization to be "in the black" with a balanced budget.

points and sometimes the fine will include both points and fine.

He said one of the most timesaving moves he has made was when, shortly after being appointed, he moved plea day from Monday morning to Tuesday, because when the plea day was Monday, he would receive a number of calls from people who had been ticketed and couldn't show up in court the following day.

He said he added all plea days for municipal crimes to the Tuesday docket, hears divorce cases on Monday, uses Wednesdays for trials, Thursdays for small claims and juvenile cases and Friday for felonies.

"Last Friday might have been called Bludworth's Welfare Fraud Day," he said. "I heard pleas, from 21 cases, most of which were third degree felonies." He said he is slated to hear a similar number this Friday.

Of the 21 cases, Adams said he found 20 indigent and assigned Public Defender Sam Powers to represent them. Powers pled not guilty and asked for a jury trial in each case. The jury trials will all take place on the coast.

In each of the cases, Assistant State's Attorney Eugene Berry recommended that if they pled guilty, they be sentenced to a year's probation and ten days in jail, with the option of serving the jail time on weekends, provided full restitution was made within the year.

Adams said he is always interested in getting recommendation from the State's Attorney's office but he isn't bound by the recommendation.

"I felt I couldn't accept the recommendation in this case because I didn't know the facts," he said. "I wasn't sure if the person is guilty of taking a dollar more than he deserved or whether he was unentitled to anything."

"I wasn't sure if the person is guilty or whether the bureaucratic system is guilty," he went on, "or if the clerk is guilty for misfeasance and malfeasance of office or whether this group (the Rotary Club) is guilty."

He said that in welfare cases in the past he had traditionally ordered a sentence of 30 to 90 days in jail but, "the minute they found I was considering jail time, they asked for an attorney and the Public Defender automatically pled not guilty and asked for a jury trial, which took it out of my hands."

He said he has since begun ordering a sentence which includes restitution of some form and he believes this is a good thing to include in the sentence, even though he has been told by some attorneys this week they didn't believe a sentence including restitution would hold up in an appellate court.

When asked by Rotary President Gene Badger what happens if the welfare cases should go before the judge in West Palm Beach who said a couple of years ago he wouldn't hear any more welfare fraud cases, Adams said he didn't know but judges remain judges only as long as the public allows them to.

He said, in answer to a final question, the only thing between now and the jury district approved a couple of months ago is the mechanics of getting up the revenue.

APL continued

114 failed. Of those 114, 113 were minority students... meaning that 51 percent of the minority students taking the test here failed to score as high as 60 percent.

The test is broken down into five sections, dealing with community resources, occupational knowledge, consumer economics, government and law and health. The student must pass not only with an overall grade of 60 percent but must pass each section.

Many of those who failed, failed in only one section and must only pass that one section to make the difference between earning a certificate of attendance and a diploma. Makeup tests have already been scheduled for August 17 and 18 and mid January 1978. Should any of those students who failed the test in April pass during one of those tests, they will receive diplomas.

Of the 244 students who were tested, 64 failed community resources, 67 failed occupational knowledge, 58 failed consumer economics, 36 failed health and 86 failed government and law.

Glades Central students had a lower performance rate than any other school in the county overall and did poorer than any other school in each of the subjects except health. In that subject Pahokee was the only school which did poorer.

And what will it mean if a student isn't able to pass the test in either of the next two testings and receives a certificate of attendance instead of a diploma?

"What would you do if someone came to you looking for a job and they only had a certificate of attendance instead of a diploma?" asked Glades Central Guidance Counselor Reginald Murray.

"Another guidance counselor, Robert Replogle, said that although Florida junior colleges have an open door policy which requires them to accept all high school graduates, it is unclear whether a certificate of attendance will be accepted as proof of graduation.

"I've asked Dr. (Cecil) Conley (vice president of Palm Beach Junior College-Glades) if they'll accept the certificates," Replogle said, "and he never has answered me."

Students to participate in contest

PAHOKEE—Two area chapters of the National Organization for Women (NOW) are sponsoring an essay contest, "Discovering American Women," for high school students in Palm Beach County.

The West Palm Beach and South Palm Beach County Chapter sponsors for N.O.W. are area teachers: Mrs. Doreen E. Bianchi at Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High and Ms. Anita Uber at Boca Elementary.

The purpose of the contest is to discover and bring attention to the lives of the unsung heroines of American history. Mrs. Bianchi said, Participants may write about a particular woman's accomplishments in any field or class of women.

One of the first entrants, Beverly Mallory of Pahokee High, chose to write about Babe Didrikson Zaharias. Karen Duke, sponsored by Ms. Jane S. Shellymayer at Jupiter High, submitted a striking tribute to a lady she much admires, her own grandmother.

Judges for the contest include instructors at Florida Atlantic University: Dr. Ann Peyton of the English Department and Dr. Sam Clark of the Chemistry Department. A third judge is Dr. Ann McCay, former Palm Beach County School Board member. The winning essay will be submitted to the N.O.W. Legal Defense and Education Fund to compete with entrants across the country.

Preschool more than fun

BELLE GLADE—Gove Elementary School's first "Kindergarten Round-up" to be held in the Spring will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 18 at the school, when children who will be 5 years old before Jan. 1, 1978 will pre-register for pre-schooling.

Entering kindergarten and first grade students are required to have a birth certificate, a statement of examination by a doctor and a statement of examination by a dentist as well as a certificate of immunization.

The immunization certificates, or their exemptions, are available at the County Health Department, at 1024 NW Ave. D. Immunizations are given Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Jay Zitter, who works as a coordinator with the parents of students at the school, said the requirements listed above aren't necessary on pre-registration but parents whose children don't meet the requirements are encouraged to bring their children to find out how to meet the entrance standards. Kindergarten teacher Ginger Masengill said the goals of the pre-school is to get five-year-olds ready for the first grade by helping each child grow in the physical, social, emotional and academic areas and to promote the growth at the child's own rate of success.

A visitor to Mrs. Masengill's room is struck by the variety of methods being used to teach the youngsters any of a number of lessons, with aids such as playing cards and an inflated toy animal with letters painted on him to teach numbers and the alphabet.

At the beginning of the school fall term, each child's performance ability is assessed by the Meeting Street Screening Test. This has proven to be an effective tool used in screening young children for potential learning disabilities and in giving a clearer understanding of their visual-perceptual motor, body awareness and control and language difficulties.

From these tests, Mrs. Masengill said, and teacher observations, the children are grouped by ability within their classroom for academic skills instruction.

A structured math program and pre-reading program is provided with great emphasis being placed on each child progressing at his own rate. For example, she said, if a child masters each skill in reading readiness and is ready to begin a formal reading program, then his needs are met by his teacher.

On the other hand, if a child needs much growth in visual perception areas before he is able to attempt formal learning of letters and phonics, then his needs will also be met.

An in-depth progress record is kept on each child by means of the SADI-SARI management system adopted by the Palm Beach County School System.

SADI stands for the Systematic Approach to Developmental Improvement and is primarily the kindergarten level of skills. SARI stands for the Systematic Approach to Reading Improvement and is a sequential skill record beginning with pre-reading skills and going on to reading skills through the eighth grade.

Children are not allowed to advance to a higher skill level until the previous level has been mastered. In order to assist and

GINGER MASINGILL goes over a reading assignment with Sara Watson and Carmen

Garcia, two of the five-year-olds she said are already reading on an early first-grade level.

expedite the program of instruction, additional aides have been hired by the county for each grade level.

"Of course," Mrs. Masengill said, "when a child thinks of kindergarten, he automatically thinks of play and fun. Yes, these are very important aspects of our kindergarten program, but do you realize the best way the 'wee folk' learn is through play?"

"Reading, math, social studies, science, health, physical education and social learnings are all incorporated in play. That's why we have so much fun and really learn a lot."

All the kindergarten teachers at Gove are certified specifically in Early Childhood Education and receive continuous mandatory in-service training to update and expand their teaching skills.

Mrs. Zitter said there is a bilingual program for children whose primary language is Spanish and they have the services of a guidance counselor instrumental in a human development program, who is a ready listener for a child's problems and feelings, a contact person with parents in health problems, absentee problems and explanations of testing and special programs.

FINE MOTOR SKILLS, or the ability to handle small objects, is one of the tests performed on the kindergarteners at Gove, demonstrated here as Mrs. Masengill uses the Miller Street Screening Test to check Orlando Hernández.

COC site may change

BELLE GLADE—A new location for the proposed Chamber of Commerce Building in the city complex being built was suggested Monday night when a commission decision banning entrances, or exits off Avenue E or Main Street was protested.

Fred John, chairman of a chamber committee on the new building, said that while the location on the corner of Avenue E and Main Street is desirable, "it might as well not be there if you can't get to it from Avenue E or

Main."

Commissioner Aubrey Farmer suggested that if the building is located just south of where the city's community development office is now located, which is just south of the city library, that might eliminate the problem because it would allow access from two directions.

John said he would take the suggestion to the chamber's board of directors, which holds its monthly meeting at noon today, to get the board's reactions.

Judge Adams holds court at Pahokee High School

PAHOKEE—Students of the Social Studies classes at Pahokee High School, grades nine through 12, got to see the judicial system in action Monday when Palm Beach County Judge Douglas Adams held a real court session in the Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School auditorium.

Court was conducted at the school as an observation of Law Week. This is the third year that Judge Adams "has held court at Pahokee High."

The case involved a woman charged with Obstruction of Justice by interfering with a police officer who was serving a search warrant. Judge Adams said he thought this was a case with which the students could identify.

Though court proceeded as a normal trial, Judge Adams occasionally interjected to make "a teaching point" at which time he would explain to the students points he thought they should understand.

Judge Adams emphasized that cross examination is one of the most fundamental rights we have. At one point, before hearing the defendant's testimony, the judge asked the students to raise their hands if they knew at the time whether she was guilty or innocent. He noted that about 25% of the crowd raised their hands, then emphasized that "She (the defendant) sits over there absolutely innocent. Everybody is innocent 'til proven guilty."

In this trial, the jury was composed of students, but they did not have to make the final decision since Judge Adams ruled the defendant innocent of the charge.

Hospital Week theme deals with service

May 8-14 has been designated as National Hospital Week throughout the country.

"This year's theme, 'We put the care in health care,' salute hospital people for preserving the old-fashioned quality of caring while providing the most modern medical treatment," according to Cecil Greig, administrator, of Everglades Memorial Hospital. The weeks activities include internal and external special events. Arrangements were made to offer free glaucoma screening and blood pressure testing service to the community. The area's school children were invited to participate in the annual poster contest highlighting the weeks theme and the employees of the hospital are involved in a flag design contest featuring the hospital's logo and the hospital week theme.

On Thursday evening there will be a special dinner at which various employees who have served the hospital for periods of five, ten and fifteen years will be recognized. Another highlight of the evening will be the recognition of Mrs. Mary Conick as the first employee of the year at the hospital. The hospital has for sometime featured, "The Employee of the Quarter", but for the first time, an outstanding employee has been recognized for their contribution to the health care facility during the preceding twelve months.

Friday afternoon will feature a short band concert and a parade of mini floats constructed by local community clubs and schools, in the circular drive of the hospital. This will begin at 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The week's activities will be climaxed on Saturday afternoon when the hospital will hold their annual picnic at the Canal Point Recreation Center beginning at noon. A variety program is planned for the hospital employees and their families.

National Hospital Week is an annual observance sponsored by the American Hospital Association and its 7,000 members to give people an opportunity to learn more about the hospitals in their community.

Camps bustle as families celebrate Mother's Day

By Nan Corbin

BELLE GLADE-Lake Okeechobee's Belle Glade area was bustling with activity over the weekend as wind, water and fishing conditions proved favorable for most anglers.

The Belle Glade camping area was filled with a near capacity crowd as many families chose the outdoors to celebrate Mothers Day.

Clarence Smith and Jim Newton of Ft. Lauderdale used nightcrawlers on Friday to take 6 bass in the 3 to 6 pound size range and 3 smaller ones.

Del Ray Beach fisherman, Al Harris used live shiners on Friday to take a beautiful 10 1/4 pounder and 6 more in the 2 to 4 pound range.

Local anglers Jim Wall and George Scarborough relied on their old favorite, to top water Nip-a-diddle, to take 12 nice bass on Friday.

John Fodella of West Palm Beach took an 8 pound bass on Saturday using a 3" Camellion worm. John reported a total catch of 5 bass.

Kenny McIntosh of Pahokee and Dan Logan of Clearmont also used plastic worms on Saturday to take their limits of 20 bass.

Bobby Soles and Jack Welch of West Palm Beach took their limits on Saturday using plastic worms. Bootsie Weathers and Chuck Lambing of Ft. Myers used plastic worms on Sunday to take one 8 pounder, one 7 pounder and 8 smaller ones.

Sherman Maine and Randy Smoot of West Palm Beach used both plastic worms and top water plugs on Saturday to take 15 bass to 6 1/2 pounds each. Mike Zettle and party from Hollywood reported a total catch for the weekend of 242 panfish.

Glades Central boys are edged by Ft. Lauderdale

BELLE GLADE-Fort Lauderdale Dillard High School edged Glades Central's boys track team out of second place by a single point Saturday in the regional 3-A championship track meet won by Atlantic, leaving the Raiders in third place with 59 points.

The third place win in the regional meet resulted from two first place wins in the shot put and the 440 yard dash as well as placing in a number of other events and 15 Raiders will make the trip to the state meet Saturday in Winter Park.

Coach Willie McDonald said the Raiders won the third place rating out of a competition fielded by 15 schools.

Kenneth Fitzpatrick is the new regional 3A champion in the shot put following a heave of 51 1/4" while Frank Freeman threw the heavy ball 49' 2", his best throw of the year, to take sixth place.

Another champion was Allen Johnson, who won the 440 yard run in 51.4 seconds.

Craig Knowles won fourth spot in the long jump with a leap of 20 3/4".

The Raiders will field two competitors in the state meet as Freddie Garrett won second place with a 139' 8" throw and Kenneth Fitzpatrick won third with a 138' 8" effort.

In the 380 yard relay, the Raider team of David Robinson, Kenneth Henderson, Bernard Walker and Eli Martin won third place and a trip to state with a time of 1:32. Mickey Bradley will be making the trip on the strength of his fourth place win in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles in 41 seconds, as will Bobby Brereton for his 2:03 time in the 880 yard run.

Steve Wilson won third place in the two mile run in a time of 10:16.1.

The team of Anthony Adderly, Eli Martin, Joe Byrd and Cephas Knowles won third place in the sprint medley relay to make the trip.

The mile relay team of Mickey Bradley, Craig Knowles, Joe Byrd and Allen Johnson will complete at state after taking third place in the regional in 3:30.

Michael Collier, a sophomore, jumped 6' 2" in the high jump but his fifth place win wasn't enough to send him to Winter Park. Another fifth place was won in the 100 yard by Eli Martin in 10.1 seconds.

Girls come from behind for victory

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Central Girls softball team overcame an apparently overwhelming 10-4 second inning deficit Friday to keep alive state championship hopes by winning their sectional game against Dillard High of Fort Lauderdale, 12-10.

Coach Susan Duncan said her girls hung tough when the bottom of the seventh inning (the last in girls' play) ended with a 10-4 tie and posted two more runs in the top of the ninth to win the close one.

After allowing the Dillard girls to start the game with a 3-2 edge in the first inning and rack up seven more runs in the bottom of the second inning, the Glades Central players settled down to a solid defense, not allowing another run for the last seven innings.

And while they were holding the visitors to get no further than second base on the only two hits for the rest of the game, the Glades Central girls steadily whittled away at the Dillard lead, scoring in every inning but the eighth to score the victory.

Miss Duncan said Cynthia Robinson, Denise Williams, and Pat Anderson hammered out home runs during the game to help winning pitcher Angela Tillman build up the score to the tie in the seventh.

The sectional champions will travel to Tampa today to take on Marianna High in a semi-final state championship game at 3 p.m. at American Legion Field.

Break One-Nine!

Use your eyes before you use your ears.

Before you think about putting up your CB base antenna, make sure you've got your signals straight.

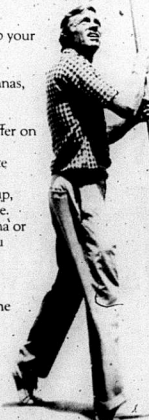

To begin with, Citizen Band antennas, unlike TV antennas, are under FCC regulations.

FCC and local rules sometimes differ on the allowable height. So, before erecting your antenna, check with the appropriate authorities.

And when you're ready to put it up, check on one other thing - the clearance.

The slightest touch of your antenna or guy wire to a power line could cause you a serious shock.

Here's how to play it safe: Make sure that you check all directions. In other words, not only the space above the antenna but all around. So, if your antenna should happen to fall, it won't happen to fall onto a power line.

How far away is safe? Certainly a distance n less than the height of the mast.

This safety rule not only goes for CB antennas but TV antennas as well. Or any metal pole for that matter.

And here's another word of caution; even when using guy wires to raise or lower your antenna you can't be assured of positive control. So, better double check the clearance.

So many people are now tuning into CB that we thought you should also be tuned into the necessary safety requirements.

This safety message has been brought to you by Florida Power and Light as a public service. Because serving the public is really what we're here for.

Pahokee track team is ready for state meet in Winterpark

PAHOKEE—With 10 athletes qualifying in the regional track meet in Clewiston over the weekend, Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School will take its number one team to Winterpark tomorrow for the state meet.

Pahokee High came in first place in the regional meet with 106 points. The second place team, Miami LaSalle, followed with only 59.

The qualifiers from Pahokee were: Leroy Love and Michael Pittman in the 100 and 220 yard dashes; Anthony Pinkney in the mile; Nathaniel Fulton in the 880 relay and Gary Jones in the long jump. Also qualifying, the sprint medley team composed of Ronnie Osborne, James Byrd, Bernard Jackson and Rickey Butler and the mile relay team composed of Anthony Pinkney, Nathaniel Fulton, Michael Osborne and Rickey Butler.

Pahokee placed third and fourth in the shot put and the discus, but only the first and second place winners could qualify for the state meet. Pahokee High Coach Antoine Russell said, "Tony Hines, who placed third in the high hurdles will go along with the team as an alternate, Coach Russell said, since every team is allowed one alternate."

"Love and Pittman have to place high in the open events, the 100 and 220 yard dash for us to win," Coach Russell said. Russell said the "long shot" will be Anthony Pinkney in the mile (he will be running against eight others) and Gary Jones in the long jump. If Pinkney finishes in the top four, Pahokee should have a good shot at the state title, Russell said. They will be defending their position as last year's Class AA State championship track team.

The state meet will take place tomorrow and Saturday, on Shon-ater field in Winterpark beginning at 4 p.m. Classes 1A through 4A will be competing in the meet.

RICK RODRIGUEZ of Belle Glade was one of the top award winners recently at the Delta State University Athletic Banquet. Rodriguez, standing at far right, won the coveted Freddie Black Memorial Award and Best Blocker Award for his work as offensive guard. He had already been named to the first string All Gulf South Conference in his position. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rodriguez of 1632 N.W. Ave. L and his brother, Tony, also a Delta State alumnus, is an assistant football coach at Glades Day School. Prize winning team-

Girls participate in state playoffs

PAHOKEE—The girls' softball team of Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School is participating in the state playoffs today at the Land of Lakes Civic Center. The game was to begin at 3:00 p.m. with Pahokee, a Section four team, playing Pierson Taylor, a Section three team, of the Deland area.

The winner of that game will play tomorrow in a final game at 7:30 p.m.

The team proceeded to the state playoffs today at the Land of Lakes Civic Center. The game was to begin at 3:00 p.m. with Pahokee, a Section four team, playing Pierson Taylor, a Section three team, of the Deland area.

Eddie Mayo wins bowling tourney

BELLE GLADE—Eddie Mayo amassed a total of 1,886 points to win the title of all-event winner in the three-week Belle Glade Bowling Tournament which ended this weekend at Triangle Lanes, according to organizer Robert Musk.

The singles winner was Linda Noland, with a 664 series and the team of Harriet and Jim Stroupe won the doubles events with a combined score of 1,309.

The winning team was "C Plus", made up of Petty Chavis, Francis Connors, Eugene Connors and Miller Travis, with a series of 2,487.

Scratch team winner was "Scratch Time", made up of Harvey Lemons, Nelson Willis, Pete Morris and Dale Marshino, with a 2,439 series.

Special awards were won by Peggy Chavis, whose 229 made her the women's highest scratch; Harriet Stroupe, whose 293 was the best handicap game for a woman; Frank Cochran for high scratch game with a 256; Eugene Connors for men's high handicap game with a 269; Linda Noland for women's high scratch set with a 577; Barbara Scott for women's high handicap set with a 659; Pete Morris for men's high scratch set with a 661 and Robert Musk for men's high handicap set with a 701.

Musk said the tournament, the first sanctioned tournament held at the lanes, was so popular, a non-sanctioned junior-adult tournament is ready to begin Saturday.

The tournament can be entered by any team of a junior bowler with an AJBP card and a house average and any adult with a card and a house average. There will be a $6 entry fee for each couple, Musk said.

He said the teams will bowl as lanes become available during the day and after the teams have signed in.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE OF INTENT TO HOLD PUBLIC HEARING ON UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, U.S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, ADMINISTRATION, OPERATING ASSISTANCE GRANT PROJECTS FOR THE PALM BEACH COUNTY, FLORIDA, TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY.

In accordance with the U.S. Department of Transportation Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended, and Palm Beach County Ordinance 72-20, the Board of County Commissioners, acting as the Palm Beach County Transportation Authority will conduct a public hearing at 10:00 a.m. on the 14th day of June, 1977, in the County Commission chambers, Room 101, County Courthouse Building, 300 North Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach, Florida, the purpose for said hearing is as follows:

(1) Consideration of an operating assistance grant for fiscal year 1976-77.
(2) Consideration of an operating assistance grant for fiscal year 1976-77.

Based upon second quarter year to date financial data for fiscal year 1976-77, an operating assistance grant in the amount of $343,940 will be considered.

Based upon second quarter year to date financial data for fiscal year 1976-77, an operating assistance grant estimated in the amount of $450,000.00 will be considered.

The proposed grant project applications under Section 5, are consistent with and contained in the area transportation development program.

The project will make a positive contribution to the service area and will not have an adverse effect on the environment. No family or business will be displaced by the project.

The Palm Beach County Transportation Authority will make available on a reasonable basis for public inspection the preliminary applications including the environmental impact of the project, and the transportation development program at Building 51457, Palm Beach International Airport.

All persons and official bodies and other organizations interested in appearing at the hearing will be heard at such time.

Should the Urban Mass Transportation Administration prepare a final statement on the environmental impacts of this project, the availability of such statement will be made public in the same manner as publication of this notice of hearing.
